

New Kinds of Minds: A Global Atlas of Neurodiversity

Phase I: Mapping Latin American Neurodiversity. Budget for January to December 2027, in US dollars.
Fundación Ama Amoedo Grants 2026, Art and Social Engagement. Applicant: Daniel Rezinovsky.

Line item	What it pays for	Units	Unit	Total
Regional mapping contributors Research and mapping	Two contributors (Brazil; Spanish-speaking Latin America), about six months of part-time research and source verification each	2	1,300	2,600
Advisory circle honoraria Community participation	Six neurodivergent advisors from mapped initiatives: two taxonomy sessions and consultation through the year	6	200	1,200
Participant-written descriptions and testimonies Community participation	Fees for initiatives that write their own entries and short testimonies (about 25 at US$20)	1	500	500
Interface and visualization development Artistic development	Trilingual interface, network field for federations and members, extension of the visual system	1	1,000	1,000
Data-visual essays Artistic development	Two commissioned essays on patterns in the Latin American mapping	2	350	700
Accessibility review Accessibility	Review by a neurodivergent-led accessibility consultancy: keyboard, screen reader, cognitive load, motion, plain language in three languages	1	700	700
Accessibility implementation Accessibility	Implementing the review's findings across map, index, entry, and contribution flows	1	400	400
Translation and localization Translation	Interface strings and more than 300 entry summaries in Portuguese, Spanish, and English	1	900	900
Online gatherings Public programming	Three gatherings among mapped initiatives: facilitation, live captioning, interpretation	3	200	600
Launch program Public programming	Public online launch of dataset 1.0 with invited initiatives	1	200	200
Domain, hosting, database, API Technology	Twelve months of infrastructure, geocoding, and backups	1	500	500
Documentation and communication Documentation	Short video, screenshots, printed dossier, outreach to initiatives and research groups	1	500	500
Bank transfer and currency costs Contingency	Transfer fees and conversion on the award and on payments to collaborators	1	200	200
Total			US$ 10,000

By category

Research and mapping 2,600 (26%) · Community participation 1,700 (17%) · Artistic development 1,700 (17%) · Accessibility 1,100 (11%) · Translation 900 (9%) · Public programming 800 (8%) · Technology 500 (5%) · Documentation 500 (5%) · Contingency 200 (2%).

Eighty-eight percent of the budget pays people, participation, artistic production, accessibility, and translation. Infrastructure is small because it already exists: the site is a static export, the dataset is a public file, and the submissions service runs on a shared twelve-dollar server.
New Kinds of Minds, budget 2027

Editable version attached as NKM_Budget_AmaAmoedo_2026.xlsx

Nothing is funded retroactively. The platform and its first 102 entries were built before this application; the grant buys the collective year of work that a prototype cannot do alone.