

New Kinds of Minds: A Global Atlas of Neurodiversity

A participatory digital artwork about the diversity of human experience. Budget for January to December 2027, in US dollars.
Fundación Ama Amoedo Grants 2026, Art and Social Engagement. Applicant: Daniel Rezinovsky.

Line item	What it pays for	Units	Unit	Total
Commissioned and licensed contributions Contributions	Fees to Latin American artists and initiatives for sound pieces, drawings, photographs, short films, performances and writing (about 25 contributions, average US$140)	25	140	3,500
Recorded conversations Contributions	Participant fees, transcription and subtitling for about 10 recorded conversations with willing participants	10	100	1,000
Sound composition and visual environment Artistic production	Composition and production of the navigable sonic and visual environment around the contributions	1	1,800	1,800
Interface development Artistic production	Building the exploratory paths, contribution pages and media playback alongside the geographic navigation	1	600	600
Translation Translation and accessibility	Portuguese and Spanish navigation, translation of contributions and summaries	1	700	700
Accessibility review and implementation Translation and accessibility	Review of the media layer with neurodivergent consultants; captions, transcripts, motion and sound controls	1	600	600
Participant review and public presentation Public presentation	Online review sessions with contributors and a public online presentation, with captioning	1	700	700
Hosting, media storage and domain Technology	Twelve months of hosting, audio and video storage, backups	1	300	300
Documentation Documentation	Screen recordings, stills, written account of the method, outreach materials	1	400	400
Transfer, currency and contingency Contingency	Bank transfer fees, currency conversion, unforeseen production costs	1	400	400
Total			US$ 10,000

By category

Contributions 4,500 (45%) · Artistic production 2,400 (24%) · Translation and accessibility 1,300 (13%) · Public presentation 700 (7%) · Technology 300 (3%) · Documentation 400 (4%) · Contingency 400 (4%).

Forty-five percent of the budget goes directly to Latin American artists and initiatives as fees for contributions and conversations; a further quarter pays for the sonic and visual environment and the interface that hold them. The platform and its first 471 entries exist already and are not funded retroactively.

All payments to contributors are fees for work created or licensed during the project period. No personal expenses, debts, legal costs, or fundraising events are included. Exchange-rate variation is absorbed by the contingency line.